IMAGE ARTIFACT REDUCTION USING A NEURAL NETWORK

ABSTRACT

A neural network is trained and used to reduce artifacts in spatial domain representations of images that were compressed by a transform method and then decompressed. For example, the neural network can be trained and used to reduce artifacts such as blocking and ringing artifacts in JPEG images.